Company: Agoda

Location: Bangkok

Category: other-general

The Opportunity:

We are looking for a talented, driven Procurement lead to join our Finance Innovation and Systems team. You will get to work on mission critical financial systems related to procurement that handle core financial processes at Agoda. You will be involved in the design, testing and operations of our core procurement system to support operational excellence that the rapidly changing field of online travel requires. You will have opportunity to rethink the way financial processes are being done and drive decisions with regards to new feature enhancements as well as the optimal integrations with multiple systems.

Our ideal candidates would have experience in Procurement operations, procurement modules in Oracle ERP fusion relational database management system (Oracle BIP, OTBI), integrations knowledge, ticket management systems such as JIRA, data analytics with strong attention to detail, organizational skills and ability to work independently in a fast-paced environment. Experience working with Robotic Process Automation (RPA) tools will be a plus.

In this Role, you'll get to:

Work with procurement business team, IT team and Group companies on integration and reporting design, testing and data migration relating to Oracle ERP Fusion.

Function as the subject matter expert and primary point of contact for all operational issues and requests related to Oracle Procurement Fusion

Administer Business-As-Usual application administration responsibility including configuration, operation, monitoring, and maintenance relating to Oracle ERP Fusion.

Develop reporting (create new and enhance existing reports) in Oracle BI-Publisher and/or OTBI.

Create and maintain accurate and up to date process documentation especially in Procurement area and technical area.

Recommend a long-term process and systems solutions to ease support issues and stabilize applications and their use.

Ad hoc training of users and administrators.

Collaborate with key users for requirements and contribute to continuous improvement and development of Agoda's procurement processes and new business opportunities.

Manage Service Requests (SRs), identify the root causes of the issues and work with relevant team to resolve any system issues or bugs.

Constantly look for ways to enhance our financial systems and processes.

What you'll Need to Succeed:

Bachelor's Degree in Computer Science, Information Systems, Engineering, MIS, Accounting, or relevant discipline.

At least four years of experience in managing financial systems operations (specifically Oracle ERP Fusion (Procurement) system).

Have enough knowledge of procurement business and its operations to evaluate and question the requirements and be able to make suggestions (not focused on system but more on people/process)

Strong knowledge and experience in Oracle BIP and PL-SQL.

Strong problem solving and analytical skills.

Excellent interpersonal, communication, and technical writing skills.

Ability to thrive in a fast-paced, dynamic environment which may involve pivots/directional changes.

Capability to support multiple projects with strict deadlines concurrently while providing daily business supports.

Good command of the English language, both written and spoken.

It's Great if you have:

Experience in project management using various methodologies (e.g., Agile, SDLC).

Experience working in data analytics.

Experience with Robotic Process Automation (RPA) tools.
