Do you enjoy overcoming big challenges? Do you get excitement out of making customers happy? Do you like to leverage technologies to solve problems? If so, let's work together!

We're a team of passionate developers who work closely with everyone in the company to provide innovative and elegant solutions for our customers. We're an avid agile team that constantly adapts our work style to match current objectives. We strive to produce quality code while keeping the cost under budget, meaning we work smarter - not just harder.

As a Software Engineer, you'll be working alongside other developers, designers and PO in Simplesat's Product team.

This role is also a fantastic opportunity to improve your English, as all of our meetings with teammates other than developers are conducted in English.

Apart from being serious about delivering a quality product and maintainable software, we like to always have fun working, so it's not like you'll always be under pressure.

In our free time, our developers like to play games, workout, trade and farm cryptocurrencies, and watch Korean dramas. We also fully support diversity at Simplesat as more than half of the company are women, half of our company are foreigners, and half of our developers are women (the dev team are all Thai though).

Responsible for

Work on a product team as a full-stack engineer alongside fellow developers, UX/UI, and PO.

End-to-end ownership of the features you've committed to develop.

Participate in code reviews and knowledge transfer sessions.

Bring your creativity and problem solving skills to each and every sprint planning, refinement, review and standup meeting.

Understand Simplesat's business and customers by engaging with the PO, CEO, Sales, and Support teams (in English).

Never stop learning and pushing yourself to grow personally and professionally.

Most importantly, you pour your passion and creativity into the product to create something you are truly proud of and that customers love.
